

Financial Aid

Regis University

Your support of financial aid at Regis University helps make a well-rounded, values-based education accessible to low and middle – income students who seek it. Building financial aid through endowments and scholarships remains a priority of the University. With your continued support, Regis is able to make the dream of a college education a reality for many deserving students, and form men and women to be leaders in service of others.

President's Council

In honor of the great faith, vision, and leadership of the founders and the 23 presidents who have served the institution, the President's Council was founded in 1976. The President's Council is comprised of men and women who annually express support for Regis University, its mission, purposes, plans and programs. Membership is open to all who contribute $1,000 or more to the University each year. This exclusive giving society provides members with VIP status and invitations to special events throughout the year.

President's Council Membership Levels

- The Robert M. Kelley Circle
$10,000 Annual Support
- The Mary Eustachia Elder Circle
$5,000 Annual Support
- The John J. Brown Circle
$2,500 Annual Support
- Member Circle
$1,000 Annual Support

*Regis College graduates can join the President's Council at a Young Alumni level.
This exclusive membership is available to graduates from the past ten years at the following levels.*

Young Alumni President Council Membership Levels

- Graduates 1-5 years out
$250 Annual Support
- Graduates 6-10 years out
$500 Annual Support

matching gifts count towards PC membership

UNIVERSITY RELATIONS

3333 Regis Boulevard, B-16
Denver, Colorado 80221-1099
303-458-3535, 800-388-2366 x3535
www.regis.edu

We are Regis

Josh Meier, RC '09

Regis University has provided me many opportunities to grow and develop. One of the most influential was a class called Career Options and Your Future. It impacted my entire college experience.

The class helps students consider a career that would be a good fit for them, and as an undeclared first year student I found this to be especially helpful. Now as a senior nearing graduation, I look back and see how that class and so many others at Regis prepared me for life after college. In addition to receiving a strong education in accounting, I have attended networking events, participated in academic, service and extra curricular activities, and fulfilled an internship in my field.

Regis has been more than just a place to earn my bachelor's degree. It's been a home and a safe haven where I could explore my interests and grow as an individual in ways I could never imagine when I first arrived. I am confident in my future as a professional and as a person.

Maureen "Mo" McGoff, RHCHP '09

For as long as I can remember I have wanted to work in the health professions. As a senior in the nursing program, I'm already able to help people, interact with patients and give back to my community. When I graduate this spring, I would like to work in pediatric oncology and I feel that my education in the Rueckert-Hartman College for Health Professions has prepared me well for this endeavor.

My professors clearly enjoy teaching and have a strong dedication to their students' success. Their expertise and passion of RHCHP's faculty create a learning environment focused on excellence, humanity and service, challenging us to develop into confident and knowledgeable professionals. I chose to attend Regis because of its Jesuit heritage, its strong reputation and its focus on students. I am excited to take what I have learned and experienced with me out into the world to share with others.

I am have been blessed by my experience at Regis and I know we can make a difference for others because of the difference you make for us.

Sherman Bucheger, CPS '10

Because of Regis, I am able to envision my dream of teaching in college as a reality. As a disabled veteran, I began my bachelor's degree as an adult, following a career in the Army and various occupations. Today, I am a student in the Master of Arts program in the College for Professional Studies. My academic focus is history, primarily the U.S. Civil War, with a certificate in Irish Studies. After graduation, I plan to continue into doctoral studies with the intention of eventually teaching college.

Just shy of my fiftieth birthday, I realize this is a major life change- as it is for many of my fellow classmates. I am grateful to Regis University for the support and the opportunity to achieve my goal at this point in my life. Everyone in CPS with whom I have come into contact is invested in my success. And the system of instruction enables me to explore the conventional mainstream threads of history as well as many of the lesser known events of the past in which I have great interest.

I consider myself fortunate to experience and benefit from all the College for Professional Studies has to offer and look forward to the day when I can proudly refer to the University as my alma mater.

