

December 2007

SCIS amends MOU with National Defense University

On December 9, 2007, the School of Computer & Information Sciences (SCIS) signed an amended MOU with the National Defense University and the Information Resources Management College in Washington, DC. Signing this document will allow students who graduate from NDU/IRMC to have graduate-level course credits accepted into selected programs within Regis University.

Graduates of the NDU/IRMC Certificate Programs can apply nine to fifteen graduate credit hours toward selected Master degree programs in SCIS. The NDU/Information Resources Management College website links, applicable degree certificates, and point of contact information are provided on the following page: Information Resources Management College.

Please contact a School of Computer & Information Sciences representative for additional information