The Regis Core requires two courses in Religious Studies

- RT 201: Religion and the Human Quest.
- One RT 300-level course such as:
  - Bible and Belief
  - Mystics, Saints, and Radicals
  - Faith and Justice in World Christianity
  - Belief and Unbelief
  - Jesuit Spirituality
  - Catholic Social Justice
  - Catholic Christianity
  - Western Spiritual Paths
  - Science and Religion
  - Psychology and Religion
  - Christian Love and Marriage
  - Faith and Healing
  - Latina/o Catholicism
  - Theology and Sexuality

How to “Double-Dip” Twice in the Integrative Core & Religious Studies

The Regis Core also requires all students to take the following four integrative core courses in the junior and senior years:

- RCC 400D – Diversity and Cultural Tradition
- RCC 410E – Global Environmental Awareness
- RCC 420J – Justice and the Common Good
- RCC 430M – Search for Meaning

If you take one of these integrative core courses that is co-listed with RT, such as “Interfaith Dialogue” or “Peace and Justice in Catholic Social Thought,” then it fulfills both the integrative core requirement and an upper division Religious Studies Minor or Major requirement. This works for up to 2 courses in a Religious Studies Minor or Major.

See the other side of this handout for a list of 400-level courses that are co-listed with the integrative core.

Only Two More Courses beyond the core for RS minor?

The Religious Studies minor requires 18 credits (6 courses), including:

- Completion of the Religious Studies distributive core (RT 201 & one RT 300-level course)
- Four 400-level courses

What this means, is that, with a little planning, four of the six courses required for the minor can be fulfilled by core requirements. This leaves only two additional religious studies courses to complete a fascinating minor. See the sidebar for more information.