WHY RECRUIT AT REGIS UNIVERSITY?

- Regis University is devoted to excellence in education and has been named one of the top universities in the West by U.S. News and World Report. Founded in 1877, Regis shares a distinguished, 500-year tradition of Jesuit education with 27 other Jesuit colleges and universities in the U.S., including Georgetown, Boston College and Marquette.

- Private sector, government and nonprofit organization recruiters can reach out to a population of about 10,000 students in Regis University’s three colleges:
  - Regis College – a four-year college offering programs in the liberal arts, sciences, business and education to students of traditional college age.
  - College for Professional Studies – a nationally recognized leader in adult higher education offering undergraduate and graduate programs to more than 5,000 students in both classroom and distance learning settings.
  - Rueckert-Hartman College for Health Professions – dedicated to educating leaders committed to excellence in the health care professions, it offers undergraduate, graduate and certificate programs in nursing, physical therapy, pharmacy, and health care administration and information management.

For more information about the various academic programs offered at Regis University, go to www.Regis.edu/Academics.

- Employers who recruit at Regis have come to know that our students and alumni possess the essential skills and qualities they are looking for – strong leadership abilities, effective communication and interpersonal skills, real world experience, keen problem solving skills, and a distinguishing commitment to community service. Regis students and graduates are ready to meet the challenges of the workplace, play a role as leaders in service to others, and make the world a better place.

- Whether you’re looking for traditional-age college students or graduates, individuals with postgraduate degrees, or applicants that offer strong levels of professional experience, our skilled Career Services staff is dedicated to helping you identify and reach highly qualified candidates to fill your staffing and internship needs.

- Regis University is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission and is a member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools, whose website and phone number are: www.ncahlc.org, 800.621.7440.

Teach For America recruits Regis students and alumni because of their deep sense of social justice and understanding of the importance of outcomes. They are intrinsically motivated and dedicated to the work they do to make our communities a better place. We have some outstanding corps members from Regis University working across the country, transforming the lives of many young students by their hard work and perseverance.

Chief of Staff, Recruitment Teach For America
Employers must comply with the following guidelines in order to be eligible to conduct any recruiting activities at Regis University, which includes employer services made available by Career Services:

- Recruiting activities must be conducted to fill current or near-term job opportunities appropriate for students, recent college graduates, and/or more experienced alumni, or to present to such persons employment related information about the employer in anticipation of future hiring needs.
- Placement fees cannot be charged to applicants.
- Employers must comply with all applicable federal and state employment laws and regulations, including, without limitation, the federal Equal Employment Opportunity Act, and with the employer recruiting guidelines of the National Association of Colleges and Employers.
- Employers cannot recruit for “commission only” jobs, unless a paid training period is provided.

Career Services reserves the right to approve/disapprove any employer’s access to recruiting at Regis University, including access to employer services made available by Career Services.
FREE SERVICES FOR EMPLOYERS
TO FIND THE CANDIDATES YOU WANT...WHEN YOU WANT THEM!

ONLINE RECRUITING:
Use our CareerLink website to post a job or internship opportunity or to coordinate other recruiting activities.
Announcements for full-time, part-time, temporary, or seasonal positions can be posted on CareerLink by simply logging in to your CareerLink account. If you don’t have a CareerLink account, you can quickly create one through www.myinterface.com/regis/employer. Or if you prefer, we can post the announcement for you when you submit your complete posting with application instructions to jobs@regis.edu.

EMPLOYMENT INTERVIEWS:
Conduct job interviews on Regis University’s North Denver (Lowell) campus in Denver with candidates from all three of the University’s colleges.

INFORMATION TABLES:
Enhance your organization’s visibility and meet potential candidates by visiting with students at your reserved information table in the lobby of the Student Center on Regis University’s North Denver (Lowell) campus in Denver.

EMPLOYERS THAT HAVE HIRED REGIS UNIVERSITY GRADUATES

Regis University is a highly respected educational institution and well known for its academic rigor. Students are proud to say, “I graduated from Regis University.” As an employer who has hired Regis graduates, I have seen that pride demonstrated through students’ internships and clinical rotations, interviews, and job fairs. Regis graduates take pride in their University, take pride in their careers, and take pride in themselves!

Community Relations Recruiter
Kaiser Permanente
Colorado Region
If you’re interested in recruiting at Regis University, use the business card provided above to contact our employer relations developer.