

UNIVERSITY VISION AND CORE VALUES: January 14, 2013 Draft

Vision Statement: Regis University will be a premier, world-responsive institution of higher learning in the Jesuit tradition that prepares leaders to live productive lives of faith, meaning, and purpose.

Core Values:

A Shared commitment to our Jesuit, Catholic Tradition, which values the liberal arts as the foundation of all education, and which honors faith, reason, and academic freedom in the search for truth, knowledge, and wisdom;

Experience, Reflection, and Action in the context of Creativity and Discernment, which transforms all facets of the human person—intellectually, spiritually, socially, ethically, and physically;

An Inclusive and Welcoming Learning Community, which mirrors the world; transcends the interests of particular individuals or groups; values reasoned, respectful discourse in decision making; promotes the free exchange of ideas; and respects the contributions and views of others;

A Commitment to Justice and the Common Good, which demonstrates an unwavering belief in human dignity, examines our relationships with all of God's creation, and forms globally-informed students who will "move the world" as leaders in the service of others;

Careful Stewardship of our mission, our community, and our resources in order to build a sustainable future for the University;
