

Financial Policies

Tuition, fees, and other charges described in the University Catalog are good faith projections for the current academic year. They are, however, subject to change from one academic term to the next as deemed necessary by the University in order to meet its financial commitments and to fulfill its role and mission.

There may be other fees and charges that are not specified in the University Catalog. These fees and charges may be ascertained by contacting the University office that administers the program or activity in which the student intends to enroll or engage. Additionally, a non-refundable tuition deposit may be required by an individual program upon official acceptance to the University.

Regis University reserves the right to restrict and/or drop registration. The University will not register a student or issue official transcripts, diplomas, or other educational credentials or certifications to or on behalf of any student or former student with a financial obligation, which includes without limitation Federal Perkins and Federal Nursing loans.

At the time of registration, students accept financial responsibility for all tuition charges. Full payment of the student account balance is due by the published due date. If the balance is not paid by the due date, late fees will be assessed.

Upon non-payment of tuition charges and/or fees, Regis University may declare the balance due and payable. Failure to make a payment arrangement on a delinquent account will result in collection action. In the event the tuition and fees balance is placed in the hands of an attorney or a collection agency for collection through legal proceedings or otherwise, students are obligated to pay late fees, attorney fees, court costs, collection agency fees and all other applicable charges to Regis University. Electronic signatures are equal to signed promissory notes. Tuition deferments, payment agreements, and RPO payment plans are equal to loans and are not dischargeable in bankruptcy. Disputed past due accounts shall be governed by Colorado law, excluding its conflicts of law's provisions. In the event of default, Regis University and its respective agents reserve the right to report defaulted information to the credit bureaus.
