FIRST GENERATION STUDENTS

We are educating increasing numbers of first-generation college students—which research shows is a pathway for working class families into the middle class, which contributes to the growth of our area.

70% of our First Gen students identify as Hispanic/Latino/a/x

28.6% of full-time undergraduates identify as Hispanic/Latino/a/x

HISPANIC STUDENTS

1 of 2 Jesuit universities that are federally designated Hispanic Serving Institutions. Regis is moving toward becoming a bilingual campus, engaging families, offering additional supports to our growing Hispanic student population, focusing on inclusive hiring and culturally-relevant curricular and co-curricular programming.

Inaugural Summer Bridge program for First Gen students in 2022 made possible through a partnership with local Jesuit-educated restauranteur

Annual Dia de los Muertos community event—hosted Spanish programs from core group of four Denver Public Schools, with support for local restaurants in supplying food for participants.
