

Elementary Education

At Regis, you'll learn the practice of teaching from a perspective that emphasizes the heart and mind of education. Our family of programs is grounded in the Jesuit tradition that emphasizes development of the whole person. This tradition informs how our faculty teach, and how we train our graduates to teach. To achieve this, you'll gain a strong foundation in topics such as child development, pedagogy, classroom management, and the use of evidence-based practices.

If you believe that teaching is a calling and not just a profession, you've come to the right place. Come learn from and with people who feel the same.

Inspire the minds of tomorrow.

Designed for students seeking initial licensure in the state of Colorado, you'll graduate ready to teach learners of all types in grades K-6. With specific subject-area introductions in liberal arts, mathematics, science and physical health, your program will culminate with a student teaching experience in a local classroom.

IN WHAT FORMAT ARE CLASSES HELD?

Courses are taught online in 8-week terms.

WHEN CAN I START?

Program starts are offered in August and January.

STUDENT TEACHING

Student teaching requires full-time enrollment in the program and must be completed at an accredited K-6 institution within the state of Colorado. Regis has over 100 partner schools and will work to pair you with the right grade level in a supportive atmosphere.

Students must pass the state-required licensing exam (PRAXIS) before applying for student teaching. Additionally, a total of 200 field hours must be completed prior to student teaching. Students should expect to complete 1-3 field hours per week while enrolled in the program.

INITIAL LICENSURE

After completing your field hours in a Colorado school, you can apply for licensure in Colorado through the Colorado Department of Education with our recommendation. A total of 800 hours of fieldwork and student teaching are required for licensure, as well as successful completion of the PRAXIS licensing exam.
