

Health Services Administration

Are you a strong, focused leader in the health care industry? With a master's degree in Health Services Administration, you'll stand out in the field of job applicants and be ready to advance your career and take on responsibilities like developing budgets, creating policies, maintaining compliance and managing staff.

Advancing the business of patient care.

The Master of Science in HSA from Regis University is much like an MBA for health care. You'll gain the legal, financial, management and administrative skills needed to keep major health care companies and organizations running smoothly and efficiently. Courses in finance, organizational ethics, operations, leadership, research and technology management will build upon your experience as a working professional and provide you with a deeper appreciation of the social and ethical obligations and conflicts involved in providing health care.
