

Dermatology Nurse Practitioner

The Dermatology Nurse Practitioner Fellowship prepares certified nurse practitioners to pursue and continue a subspecialty career in dermatology. Over the course of one year, you'll acquire advanced knowledge and skills in the management of skin disorders such as skin cancer, psoriasis, eczema and acne, as well as learn how to perform biopsies and other diagnostic techniques. Upon completion of the fellowship, you'll be able to work independently or as part of a team in dermatology clinics, hospitals and other health care settings.

Enhance Your Expertise in Skin Care

The Dermatology Nurse Practitioner Fellowship at Regis University is one of the few post-master's programs in the country specifically created to meet the requirements for national certification as a dermatology nurse practitioner through the Accreditation Board for Specialty Nursing Certification (ABSNC). Over the course of the fellowship, you'll complete 630 of the required 3,000 clinical hours needed for certification, all while being instructed by faculty who have been recognized as experts in the field of dermatology.

Graduates of the fellowship meet the requirements for national certification as a dermatology nurse practitioner through the Accreditation Board for Specialty Nursing Certification (ABSNC).
