
Tuition Exchange Scholarship

WHAT IS Tuition Exchange - Tuition Exchange is a partnership of 630+ colleges and universities who offer undergraduate tuition scholarships to eligible dependent children of full-time faculty, administration, and staff of participating institutions. Tuition Exchange is a competitive program and does not guarantee a scholarship. Dependents must be admitted to the institution(s) they are seeking Tuition Exchange at and schools may limit the total number of scholarships they offer each year to new students.

WHERE IS Tuition Exchange AVAILABLE - A full list of institutions is available at www.tuitionexchange.org.

HOW DOES IT WORK – Tuition Exchange is an undergraduate tuition remission program for children of current full-time faculty, administrators, and staff. Through the Tuition Exchange program, employees who have a tuition remission benefit for their children at their home institution can apply to receive a Tuition Exchange Scholarship at participating colleges and universities, should there be space available, and the student meets the school’s requirements for Tuition Exchange applicants.

ELIGIBILITY – Each individual institution sets their own rules about how students are selected to receive a Tuition Exchange Scholarship and it is the student’s and parent's responsibility to research what is required and follow any applicable deadlines/policies. Many schools use academic achievement as a determining factor, and will only consider incoming first-year applicants.

At Regis University, we offer Tuition Exchange annually at the set Tuition Exchange rate. For 2023-24, the set rate is $41,000.

Tuition Exchange applicants must:

- 1) Be admitted to Regis University as a traditional, undergraduate student in a degree-seeking program,
- 2) Have a cumulative high school G.P.A. of 3.0 or higher,
- 3) Complete a FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) and have a FAFSA EFC (expected family contribution) of 75,000 or less
- 4) Live on-campus
