

Intramural Participation Guidelines and Waiver

Participation in intramural athletic sports is limited to currently enrolled Regis University students, faculty members, and staff. Regis University assumes no responsibility for injuries received during intramural athletic activities. Students, faculty, and staff are reminded that intramural participation is entirely voluntary. Further, it is recommended that all participants have a physical examination and appropriate medical insurance prior to participation.

Participation in intramural athletics also is subject to the following guidelines:

- Participants must carry a Regis University identification card with them to all intramural activities, and be willing to produce it to a staff member if asked.
- Students must sign a written waiver releasing Regis University from liability prior to participation.
- Participants can only play on one team per league.
- Participants must wear appropriate athletic attire, including athletic shoes, and are prohibited from wearing earrings or jewelry that is worn loosely.
- No Varsity Athlete can participate in the same sport in which he/she represents the University. However Intramural Sports highly advises that each varsity athlete visit with their coach prior to participation.
- Scholarship athletes are strongly encouraged to discuss participation in intramural sports with their varsity coach, prior to signing on to a roster.
- By participating in intramural sports, students agree to abide by the Intramural Code of Conduct.
- Intramural athletics privileges may be revoked given repeated code of conduct violations in accordance with the student handbook!
