

KIMBERLY O'NEILL

EXPERIENCE

Regis University, Denver, Colorado

2013-present

Research & Instruction Librarian, Associate Professor, Health Sciences Liaison

- Provide research and informational services to library users in the library and beyond through appropriate technologies, effectively utilizing print and electronic resources.
- Bibliographer for nursing, physical therapy, pharmacy, health service education, occupational therapy and exercise science.
- Participate in the library instruction program, including the development of faculty contacts, instructional materials, and ground-based and video presentations.
- Collaborate with faculty on instruction design and content of research sessions such as Evidence-based practice and Critical Inquiry.
- Conduct research and library orientation sessions for Nursing, Physical Therapy, Pharmacy, Health Service Education, and Occupational Therapy.
- Create research guides for nursing, physical therapy, pharmacy, health service education, occupational therapy and exercise science.
- Participated in Rueckert Hartman College for Health Sciences Academic Council and Provost Advisory Council.
- Serve on search committees for library professionals and University administration.
- Keep abreast of professional practice through such activities as professional reading, discussion lists, visiting other libraries, attending professional conferences and other continuing education opportunities.
- Develop and execute search strategies and gather and organize literature for systematic reviews.
- Contribute to the profession through such activities as consulting, publishing, participating in the committee structure of professional societies.
- Past-Chair Library Faculty Committee.
- Copy editor coordinator for Jesuit Higher Education: A Journal.
- Created library survey to assess marketing of reference services.
- Coordinated Library Exhibits and work with artists and exhibitors on installation.

2008 - 2013

Part-time/On-Call Reference Librarian

- Provide reference services to students, faculty, staff and the public utilizing print and electronic resources in subjects including social science, humanities, natural and health sciences and business.
- Create Library Guides for Exercise Science and Nutrition.
- Troubleshoot printer, scanning and computer issues in reference area.

2015-2016, 2020-

Affiliate Faculty, Loretto Heights School of Nursing

- Taught undergraduate course, Normal and Therapeutic Nutrition (NR 350), a prerequisite course for pre-nursing and pre-physical therapy students.
- Selected textbook and materials for course.
- Developed course content through Learning Management System.
- Developed and implemented lectures, video content, exams and quizzes.
- Advised students on performance and wrote letters of recommendation for professional program admission.

URS Corporation, Denver, Colorado

2009 - 2013

Research Librarian

- Provide information research support to environment, engineering, mining, geology, business development, marketing, facilities and transportation groups.

- Use Dialog, Proquest and other databases to retrieve bibliographic and full-text resources.
- Perform acquisition and cataloging of library materials and databases including monographs, government documents and maps.
- Conduct serials management, document delivery and interlibrary loan services.
- Carry out records management functions, such as archives and administrative records.
- Support biologists by performing desktop ecological screenings of project sites.
- Serve on HSE Committee as Health and Safety Coordinator for Support Services.
- Provide training sessions on library resources.
- Create and code content for library intranet page.
- Edit and proofread project materials and deliverables.

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency National Enforcement Investigations Center Library, Stanley Associates/GCI Inc., Lakewood, Colorado

1996 - 2000

Library Manager

- Manager of Environmental Protection Agency library contract at the National Enforcement Investigations Center that supports chemists, engineers, geologists, biologists, attorneys and investigators.
- Responsible for library contract staff, reference, online searching, acquisitions, collection development, bibliographic instruction and management of the contract delivery order.
- Contributed to the profession by engaging in scholarship and participating in special projects and committees.
- Used STN, Dialog, Lexis-Nexis, Westlaw, Internet and OCLC information retrieval systems.
- Created and coordinated Internet and Intranet sites, including HTML coding of information, using web development tools, converting documents into PDF format, digitizing photos and text documents, applying metadata, and creating photo and graphical web presentations.
- Developed online and print materials for workshops and ongoing staff training.
- Made purchasing recommendations to federal staff on database selection, web development tools and information management systems.

EDUCATION

Masters in Library and Information Science (health sciences concentration), Wayne State University, 1996.

Master of Science, Nutrition and Food Science, Wayne State University, 1990. Thesis, Dietary fiber and vitamin E interactions: binding characteristics.

Bachelor of Arts, Biological Sciences, Wayne State University, 1988.

PRESENTATIONS & PUBLICATIONS

O'Neill, K. (2019, 21, Sept.) Genealogy and Genetics for the Average Jo(sephine). Presentation at Colorado Association of Libraries Annual Conference (September 19-21), Loveland, CO.

O'Neill, K. (2018). The successful literature review (contributor). In Houser, J. (Ed.). Nursing Research: Reading, Using and Creating Evidence (pp. 109-130). Burlington, MA: Jones & Bartlett Publishing.
<http://www.jblearning.com/catalog/9781284110043/>

O'Neill, K. (2017). AccessScience. The Charleston Advisor, 18(3), 5–8. <https://doi.org/10.5260/chara.18.3.5>

O'Neill, K. (2017). Academic OneFile. The Charleston Advisor, 19(1), 5-9. <https://doi.org/10.5260/chara.19.1.5>

O'Neill, K. (2017). "Biology" In Magazines for Libraries. Cheryl LaGuardia. (Ed.). 25th ed. New Providence, NJ: Bowker.

O'Neill, K.L & Guilfoyle, B. A. (2015). Sign, sign everywhere a sign: What does "reference" mean to academic library users? Journal of Academic Librarianship. 41(4), 386–393.
<http://doi.org/10.1016/j.acalib.2015.05.007>

Verplaetse, A., Mascareñas, P., & O'Neill, K. (2015). Zen and the Art of Disaster Planning: Collaboration Challenges in Library Disaster Plan Design and Execution." In Decker, E. & Townes, J. (Eds.), Handbook of Research on Disaster Management and Contingency Planning in Modern Libraries. IGI-Global.

O'Neill, K. (2015). "Biology" in Magazines for Libraries. Ed. by Cheryl LaGuardia. 24th ed. New Providence, NJ: Bowker.

O'Neill, K. & Brownfield, L. (2014, 17 Oct.). Marketing in an academic library: Just do it. Presentation at Colorado Association of Libraries Annual Conference (October 17-19), Loveland, CO.

Nnanna, I.A. & O'Neill, K.L. (1992). In vitro binding of select dietary fiber sources to vitamin E. Journal of Food Science, 57(3), 721-725.

O'Neill, K.L. (1990, June). Dietary fiber and vitamin E interactions: binding characteristics. Poster session presented at the annual meeting of the Institute of Food Technologists, Anaheim, California.

ASSOCIATION MEMBERSHIPS & COMMITTEES

National Genealogical Society, 2018-

Colorado Genealogical Society, 2018-

Dayton Memorial Library Faculty Chair, 2015-17

Dayton Memorial Library Disaster Planning Committee, 2014-

Dayton Memorial Library Database Committee, 2014-15

Regis University Institutional Review Board, 2017- 21

Medical Library Association member, 2014-

Nursing and Allied Health Research Section Wiki Team Leader 2014-

Consumer Health and Information Section, Membership Committee 2014-15.

Colorado Council of Medical Librarians, 2014-

President, 2016-17

Internet Committee, 2015-16

Membership Committee Chair 2018-

Nominating Committee Chair, 2017-18

AWARDS

Academy of Health Information Professionals, Distinguished member, 2017.

CAL Conference Scholarship, 2003.

Special Libraries Association Horizon Marketing Swap and Shop First Place Website Design, 1999.

Rocky Mountain Special Libraries Association Horizon Award, 1998.

GCI Information Services Certificate of Recognition for Outstanding Service, 1997.

Beta Phi Mu, 1996.

Library Science Alumni Association Scholarship, April, 1995.

Graduate-Professional Scholarship, May, 1995 and May, 1989.

Graduate Research Assistantship, 1989.