I have been working professionally as an artist for over 20 years, dividing my time between fine art and technical computer visualization for forensics, architecture and manufacturing. Before coming to Regis, I taught computer animation and electronic image manipulation at the Art Institute of Colorado and Metropolitan State College. At Alchemical Eye Studio, a 3D printmaking studio in Arvada, Colorado, I consult with other professional artists on ways to incorporate alternative process digital printing and digital fabrication techniques into their work.
