

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN HEALTH CARE ADMINISTRATION

DEGREE PROGRAM

Health care is in dire need of individuals who can coordinate care, manage finances, maintain compliance, and supervise staff. The job outlook is projected to be much faster than average, with 17% growth expected through 2024. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, more than 56,000 medical and health service manager positions are expected to be created by 2024. At Regis, our on-line B.S. in Health Care Administration was recently ranked #8 in the country by CollegeChoice (2016) and can help you meet that demand in as little as 24-30 months.

With our flexible online format and small class sizes, you can advance your education while keeping your full-time job.
